

Responsibility in the Cloud: Vendor vs. Bank? (Webinar)

September 25, 2019 ☐ 10:00am - 11:00am

Outsourcing and partnering with cloud providers can offer businesses a vast array of options for offering products and services around the globe and around the clock. With this transition to the cloud comes the dangerous assumption that the vendor will sufficiently secure your data and you can hand this responsibility off to them. Outsourcing functions to cloud vendors does not negate all responsibilities of the Bank, and this session will cover those responsibilities that are often overlooked as a result of outsourcing relationships.

Learning objectives

- Appropriate vendor due diligence practices
- How to perform a cloud service risk assessment
- Common user entity controls to implement

Who Should Attend:
