2015 Bank Counsel Conference

December 10-11, 2015

The Ritz-Carlton New Orleans, LA

The 2015 LBA Bank Counsel Conference will include two days of presentations on recent state legislation and court cases involving banking and commercial laws, as well as presentations on federal banking regulations and other current issues.

Location

The Ritz-Carlton, New Orleans
921 Canal Street
New Orleans, LA 70112

Registration Fee

$495, per LBA member
$695, per non-member

Who Should Attend

The conference agenda focuses on issues of concern to both bankers and their legal counsel. This program is designed to benefit in-house bank counsel, private practitioners in the banking and commercial law fields and bank officers.

Hotel Information

The LBA has contracted for a set number of sleeping rooms at The Ritz-Carlton based on the last few years' attendance. We will monitor the room pickup and add rooms if available. We encourage you to make your reservations early. To ensure the LBA group rate of $189+ tax/night, please call 1-800-826-8987 and identify that you are booking with the LBA Bank Counsel Conference Room Block. Reservations can also be made online:

SERVICE CORPORATION

2015 Bank Counsel Conference

December 10-11, 2015

The Ritz-Carlton, New Orleans

Featured Speakers

David Cromwell is a partner in the Shreveport law firm of Pettiette, Armand, Dunkelman, Woodley, Byrd & Cromwell, L.L.P. An Order of the Coif graduate of Tulane Law School, he is a member of the Council and vice-president of the Louisiana State Law Institute and presently serves as the reporter of its Security Devices Committee, which authored the recent revision of the Civil Code titles on security and pledge. He is also the reporter and chairman of the Law Institute's Coordinating, Semantics, Style and Publications Committee. He previously served as reporter of the Component Parts Committee and has also served as a member of Law Institute's Uniform Commercial Code, Rent and Annuities, Counterletters, Prescription, Tutorship Procedure, Utility Servitude, Water Law and Respite Committees. He is a member of the American College of Real Estate Lawyers and of the Bank

Counsel Committee of the Louisiana Bankers Association, having served as chairman in 1994 and 2005. From 2004 until 2014, Mr. Cromwell was the Code III bar examiner of the Louisiana bar examination and was recently appointed by the Louisiana Supreme Court to an additional term as a testing committee member of its Committee on Bar Admissions. He is listed in Best Lawyers in America and is listed as a leading individual in the field of banking and finance in the Chambers USA Guide to America's Leading Lawyers for Business. He is a member of the board of directors of the Committee of One Hundred in Shreveport and is a member and former director of the Rotary Club of Shreveport. He is a frequent lecturer on security devices and other commercial topics.

Andrew L. Sandler, Chairman and Executive Partner of BuckleySandler LLP, is widely recognized as "one of the leading stars" in the financial services regulatory and litigation fields. Drawing on his more than 25 years of experience as a strategic legal advisor to the banking and financial services sectors, Mr. Sandler navigates complex legal challenges to help clients — including boards, C-Suite executives, and in-house legal and compliance professionals — achieve their business goals. Mr. Sandler represents the nation's leading banks, the mortgage industry, auto lenders, and consumer finance companies in regulatory examinations and enforcement actions brought by federal and state banking and enforcement agencies, including all federal banking agencies, the U.S. Department of Justice, the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, and the Securities Exchange Commission. He regularly represents clients in enforcement actions by state attorneys general. He provides counsel on matters involving consumer protection, fair lending, the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery, and Enforcement Act, the False Claims Act, and anti-money laundering law/the Bank Secrecy Act. He also advises clients on regulatory issues related to bank mergers and acquisitions. Mr. Sandler represents financial institutions and other entities and individuals in a broad array of complex litigation, including matters involving fair lending and consumer protection, mortgage lending, and commercial disputes. He often is called upon to represent clients with claims against federal government agencies and has served as lead defense counsel in nearly 100 class action lawsuits. In addition to his role as a founding partner of BuckleySandler LLP, Mr. Sandler has served as Chief Executive Officer of Trelia Risk Advisors since 2009. The multi-disciplinary firm provides consulting, compliance, and transaction advisory assistance to the financial services industry. Chambers USA has consistently recognized Mr. Sandler, saying he "is widely considered to be one of the leading stars of the financial services regulatory firmament, routinely providing regulatory advice pertaining to compliance and enforcement matters and displaying ongoing excellence in consumer finance litigation. In 2015, he was recognized as a "Star Individual" in the Consumer Finance Litigation and Compliance areas of law and also received Chambers USA's top rating in the areas of Banking Enforcement & Investigations and Compliance. Mr. Sandler has been consistently recognized in Best Lawyers and has received their "Lawyer of the Year" distinction. Washingtonian magazine named him one of 30 Washington, D.C. "Superstar" lawyers and a banking and financial services "Star of the Bar."

Jeremy Alford is the publisher and editor of LaPolitics.com and LaPolitics Weekly. In addition to public speaking engagements, he is a regular guest on radio and television news programs, having served as an analyst-source for CNN, FOX News, MSNBC, C-SPAN and NPR. He can be heard every Thursday morning on TALK 107.3 FM in Baton Rouge and can often be seen on Fridays on WYES-TV's "Informed Sources" and on LPB's "The State We're In." Jeremy's opinion columns and syndicated news appear in 34 newspapers and magazines throughout Louisiana. He also produces a political news feed for television stations in the Shreveport, Lafayette and Monroe markets. In 2015, he was recognized as one of the state's best political reporters by The Washington Post's Fix blog. Roughly 15 years before he teamed up with late LaPolitics founder John Maginnis, he wrote his first story about Louisiana politics in 1996. Since then his work has appeared regularly in The New York Times — including three front page bylines — and he has been published by The Dallas Morning News, Associated Press and Campaigns & Elections magazine. He was the original producer of Louisiana Public Broadcasting's "Capitol Beat" and produced an investigative series on the BP oil spill in 2010 through a grant from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. Over the past 10 years he has also been a contributing writer to "The Grass Roots Guide to the Louisiana Legislature," published by Louisiana Governmental Studies. His public speaking engagements have included panel appearances for and presentations to the National Conference of State Legislatures, Council for a Better Louisiana, Public Affairs Research Council, Louisiana Bankers Association, Louisiana Retailers Association, Louisiana Society of Association Executives and others. Upcoming speeches are scheduled for the Shreveport Bar Association, Louisiana Video Gaming Association and Women in Management.
